

HEALTH FAIR PARTICIPATION APPLICATION

At Whole Foods Market, we strive to educate the community about good food, good health and a sustainable future. Upon approval, Whole Foods Market will participate in local health fairs, educational series and community events. We can customize our set up to generate the most impact at a local event. Often, our set up will include healthy snack samples, store coupons, and informational literature on health, environment and our store. Educational classes and cooking classes are also available upon approval.

In general, Whole Foods Market attends events with between 50-500 participants. Events can be open to the public, or for a private organization and/or company. Whole Foods Market requires a completed application 6 weeks in advance for consideration. Cooking classes and educational classes require an application 8 weeks in advance.

All companies and organizations who meet our guidelines are eligible for this type of event participation. However, organizations and companies may only apply for and receive a health fair participation once every six months, unless otherwise specified by Whole Foods Market. All events are reviewed annually. Participation in a previous event does not ensure future participation will be approved.

To request health fair or event participation, please complete the application in full. Incomplete applications will not be considered. Please include any applicable information about your event, including a mission statement and list of current programs. If your organization is non-profit, please attach a copy of your organizations 501(c)3 form.

Thank you for your interest and continued support of Whole Foods Market.
