KOSHER at Whole Foods Market®

THE BASICS

WHAT IS BEHIND THE VARIOUS EMBLEMS

FOUND ON YOUR FAVORITE KOSHER FOODS? A product must receive certification from a third-party authority to be labeled kosher.

There are numerous organizations based in the United States, Canada and abroad that act as certifying bodies. Each certifying agency uses its own distinct kosher symbol to indicate products that have gone through their inspection process.

EVER WONDER WHY SOME PRODUCTS CARRY

A KOSHER SYMBOL WHILE OTHER DON'T? If potatoes are kosher, why wouldn't potato chips be kosher too? The oil used to fry the potatoes and any flavorings must be free of objectionable derivatives such as animal by-products and produced on equipment that is deemed kosher. While the Bible outlines the basic food items which are clean (kosher) and unclean (trayf), modern manufacturing processes make it necessary for rabbis and scientists to oversee food production to ensure the laws of Kashrut are adhered to properly.

WHAT DOES PAREVE MEAN? Products of "Pareve" or neutral status are free of ingredients derived from meat or dairy and processed on pareve equipment.

OUR CERTIFIED KOSHER BAKEHOUSE

Our bakehouse is certified by Kosher Technical Consultants, a division of the Orthodox Jewish Council, under the supervision of Rabbi Alan Ira Silver, M.D. Rabbinic representatives, who are strictly orthodox in their personal religious practices, make unannounced "spot checks" of the facility at least twice a month.

ALL INGREDIENTS ARE CHECKED prior to their entering the building to ensure that the correct products are received and all packages are imprinted with a reliable agency's kosher seal. We only use ingredients that are "clean" of additives, chemicals, artificial coloring, artificial substances, stabilizers or preservatives.

QUALITY ASSURANCE measures include controlling the temperature of storage areas to prevent spoilage. Since insects that can be seen with the naked eye are not kosher, ingredients are thoroughly checked for infestation and for foreign matter. All of the flours are sifted three times and a fourth time before it is brought into the mixing bowl.

EQUIPMENT in the Bakehouse is used exclusively for our clientele. Daily maintenance is performed on all ovens due to their sophisticated and complex electronics systems.

ALL BREADS are "PAREVE" or of a "neutral status," which means they neither contain any derivatives of meat or dairy, so they can be eaten with any meal. None of the equipment that is stationed in the bread area is ever used for pastry.

PASTRY items are prepared and baked in an area completely segregated from the bread production. All pastries are deemed "DAIRY" as they are baked on dairy equipment and in most cases contain a dairy component.

OUR KOSHER BAKEHOUSE PRODUCTS

Whole pies, tea cakes, angel food cakes, bundt cakes.

THE KOSHER PANTRY

Whole Foods Market sells an expansive variety kosher products, and we are always on the search for new products which meet our strict standards. If you do not see a familiar item you are used to purchasing, it may be because the product contains artificial ingredients or preservatives. We carry many of the same food items from manufacturers who use only all-natural ingredients. Please ask a Team Member or peruse our kosher shopping guide for more information.

Whole Foods Market does not recommend specific products or endorse any particular certifying agencies. Please consult your local rabbi to determine what kosher products are right for you.

What's Kosher at Whole Foods Market? PLENTY!

IN OUR PRODUCE DEPARTMENT

All fresh, unprocessed fruits and vegetables free of bugs/insects

All pre-cut fruits and vegetables certified by kosher agency

IN OUR BULK DEPARTMENT

Unprocessed nuts, seeds, beans and grains in bulk bins

Packaged nuts, seeds, beans and grains certified by kosher agency

IN OUR GROCERY AND CHEESE DEPARTMENTS

Any packaged product certified by kosher agency

IN OUR SEAFOOD DEPARTMENT

Fresh fillets/steaks of fish that have fins and scales which includes species like salmon, trout, tuna and bass

* Some kosher customers may choose not to purchase fish from us, because we use the same knives to cut both kosher and non-kosher species of fish

Packaged smoked fish (kosher species) certified by Kosher agency

IN OUR BAKERY DEPARTMENT

All packaged breads and pastries from our bakehouse that have the symbol of kosher certifying agency on them

All vendor products certified by a kosher agency

MEAT AND PREPARED FOODS:

We currently do not sell any kosher foods in either department

Our Kosher Private Label Products

Many of the vendors that supply products to Whole Foods Market Private Label brands are certified kosher. Whenever possible we select those manufacturers that are certified kosher. As each manufacturer selects the kosher certifying body they work with, our product lines carry a variety of different kosher symbols, depending on the item. We currently have a large selection of products that are certified kosher and continue to add more. If you have questions about a specific Whole Foods Market Private Label Product, please contact us at privatelabel.customerservice@wholefoods.com

AND THE LIST GOES ON

We continually update our Kosher product offerings.

And occasionally we offer special seasonal items for holidays.

Our Kosher Shopping List will give you an overview of kosher items currently available in our stores. If you have a question about any of our kosher products, please ask a Team Member.
